

MANY CLOSE BATTLES EXPECTED ON EASTERN FOOTBALL FIELD TODAY

New York, Oct. 27.—Three football games outstanding interest in this section tomorrow will be staged this side of the Alleghenies, while two eastern teams journey west for inter-collegiate contests.

The two U. S. service eleven are called to stellar roles, with the Army's batting team at New Haven only the Navy tackling Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.

The third big eastern clash occurs in Boston, where Harvard and Dartmouth renew their football relations after a lapse of ten years.

Princeton and Amherst are the eastern teams that go awandering. Princeton faces Chicago on the latter's home gridiron and Amherst invades Ohio for a clash at Oberlin.

All tomorrow's games promise to be closely fought out and with the soldiers and middies contributing spectacular parades and formations in the Yale bowl and the Quakers high lights a plenty.

Still another odd circumstance is the fact that if the eleven more important games of the day, only four will be between institutions that met on the football field last year.

Army has impressive record. West Point enters the Yale bowl with a slightly more impressive record than that accumulated by the Blue this season.

The soldiers have played five games to date, winning all for a total of 113 points to opponents six. In the University of Kansas and Alabama Poly, the army met playing first, hard football of a type not common in the east.

In fact, the Auburn team as the A. P. I. players are renowned for their prowess at the beginning of the final period 6 to 9 and it was only a great fighting rally that won the game for the West Pointers. Auburn was the only team to score against the soldiers to date.

The material at New Haven this year is excellent and it may be that a marked gain in playing power and smoothness will appear against the Army. It will be needed for the West Point team composed of rugged and fast individual players, coached and hardened to a dangerous pitch.

Harvard Favorite Over Dartmouth. Harvard appears to have the edge over Dartmouth.

The Crimson has come forward steadily in each game of the schedule culminating in the victory over Centre last Saturday. Extreme alertness in following the ball, careful selection of plays and exceptional defense when the goal line was threatened have been the outstanding features of the Cambridge campaign.

Dartmouth has been playing well outside of New England this season and lost to Vermont a week ago. The renewal of the football relations with Harvard will undoubtedly open the Harvard players to exceptional exertions but the advantages possessed by the Crimson appear to outweigh such setbacks of the game.

Navy is Ruling Favorites. The Navy has already conquered two formidable eleven at Bucknell and Georgia Tech and should be able to win from Pennsylvania unless the breaks of the game go strongly against the middies. The Annapolis squad contains an unusual number of powerful and fast moving players and the preponderance of weight and speed will be with the sailors.

The Quakers have not faced a combination of the all around football caliber of the Navy and it will be interesting to note how they arise to the task. A victory would be an upset.

The east's representation in the middle-west play tomorrow is not particularly impressive. Princeton is expected and form to date has been only fair and much remains to be accomplished before the Tigers can be expected to resemble the power team established by Nassau teams of the past. The Princeton squad contains much material of promise but the development has been slow.

Intersectional Games. Chicago has been termed the "mystery" team of the conference district. In winning from Georgia, Northwestern and Purdue nothing but the most elementary plays have been used. What Coach Alzoza Stagg has reserved for the Tigers remains to be seen, but it is believed an effective attack composed of both eastern and western offense.

Amherst also meets an unknown quantity in Oberlin. Boston College, and Penn State appears to be superior to Syracuse. Rutgers, in facing West Virginia, will find an opponent of considerable power, and Columbia should be extended by Williams.

The leading games of the day in the east, with last season's results, follow. Army at Yale, 7 to 11; Dartmouth at Harvard; did not meet. Navy at Penna did not meet; Bucknell at Pittsburgh did not meet; Boston College did not meet; Lafayette at Boston College did not meet; Boston University at Brown, did not meet; Williams at Columbia, 25 to 6; Vermont at Holy Cross, did not meet; Detroit at Springfield, 21 to 0; Rutgers at W. Va., 17 to 7; Syracuse at Penn State at New York, did not meet.

GREEN KNOCKS OUT WILLIAMS. Providence, Oct. 26.—Harry Greb, American light heavyweight champion, in the fourth round of a scheduled 10-round bout, tonight at Manville landed the blow that spelled "knock-out" for Larry Williams, light-heavyweight contender of New England and challenger for the national crown. Williams took the count of nine after Greb's right swing to his chin. Before the referee recorded ten, the gamely attempted to rise, but the champion was on him like a tiger and to spare Williams further punishment Referee Joe Thomas stepped in and stopped the bout. Greb, the winner by a knockout.

Greb led all the way and before landing the winning blow Williams was almost completely played out. The victor weighed in at 166 pounds and the challenger at 153 pounds.

LIGHT PRACTICE FOR YALE AND ARMY TEAMS. New Haven, Oct. 27.—All records for attendance at a football game here are expected to be broken tomorrow when Yale and Army clash in the picturesque struggle in Yale bowl. At least, 75,000 persons are expected to be present when the West Point cadets in the Yale bowl and the Quakers for a half hour drill, a feature that is almost as popular as the game.

The Army squad of 33 men arrived at New Haven at noon and went to Derby where they will be quartered during their stay here. The team had a light workout in the bowl later in the afternoon. The cadet corps will arrive tomorrow morning and will march to the field.

The Yale variety had an hour's practice just before Army took the field, but did only the lightest work. A signal drill was held and the backs did some drop-kicking. Neither team was expected to be able to play and Neidlinger will go in as quarterback again. Eddy, who has been suffering from a bone bruise, will play in the Yale bowl and go in as left end. Captain Jordan and Mallory, although both have been suffering from boils, will be in the lineup.

The probable lineup:

Yale	Position	Army
Cruikshank	Center	Bredlander
Center		Garbisch
Lovejoy	Right Guard	Right Guard
Cross	Right Guard	Farwich
Miller	Right Tackle	Goodman
Hulman	Right Tackle	White
Neidlinger	Quarterback	Smythe
Neale	Right Half Back	Timberlake
Jordan	Right Half Back	Lawrence
Mallory	Full Back	Wood

ACADEMY MEETS STONINGTON AT THE CAMPUS TODAY. The Norwich Academy eleven will clash in their second game Saturday afternoon at the Academy campus in what is expected to be an Academy victory. The team met earlier in the season and the result was a scoreless tie. Coach McKay expects today's game to be scoreless as far as the Stonington team is concerned and that the Academy boys will come through with the victory.

There has been stiff practice all the week and the help of John McNamara and Dr. F. S. Bunnell the team has been drilled in the finer points of the game so that much is expected from the game. Boynton, who has been ill, will probably not participate in the game but Captain Williams, who has been out for a while, will be back in the lineup.

It has been learned that Stonington has been greatly strengthened both in the line and in the backfield and the Academy boys will have to snap into the game if they would be returned winner. There has been a decided lack of enthusiasm both among the players and the fans and it is probably due largely to the poor showing made by the team so far this season. The season is far from over and with a brace of wins looks good a large and enthusiastic crowd is expected to turn out for today's clash.

The N. E. A. lineup will probably be the same as in other games with the exception of Heller at end. The game is called at 2 o'clock.

ACQUITTED ON CHARGE OF HITTING REPORTER. New York, Oct. 27.—Thomas F. O'Rourke, former deputy commissioner, the match-maker for the Republic Athletic club, Brooklyn, was acquitted in general sessions court today of the charge brought against him by James E. McKee, a newspaper sports writer.

Forbes told the court that while he was attending to his duties at J. B. White's field, Brooklyn, last O'Rourke struck him because he would not get out of his seat. Forbes said he was on an assignment from his paper.

According to O'Rourke, Forbes, a boxing referee, had been suspended July 24 and was discharged from attending boxing matches. He claimed Forbes used abusive language when the sports writer asked him to explain his presence there that night.

CHICAGO-PRINCETON GAME PROMISES A FEATURE. Chicago, Oct. 27.—(By the A. P.)—With the last rehearsals over, the stage was set tonight for the biggest football clash in Chicago's history tomorrow when Princeton meets Chicago in an inter-collegiate contest that promises to attract the attention of the gridiron world.

The 12,000 people holding tickets for the game were eagerly awaiting the referee's whistle that will start the hostilities, while thousands of less fortunate spectators were making frantic last minute efforts to obtain tickets and were offering any price up to $100 for a seat costing $3.

Demand for tickets to the game has reached an unprecedented proportion. Several arrests were made of scalpers and officials at the University seemed to have taken no steps to stop the practice of selling tickets for many times their face value.

The invading Tigers swung into action behind locked gates on the stage field for a final light signal drill shortly after their arrival. When the squad reached the field no outsiders were allowed to witness the workout. After the Tigers finished the Maroons under the direction of Coach Stagg went through their final drill, also behind locked gates.

"We realize that we have a hard game, but we are out to win despite all opposition," said Coach Bill Roper of the Tigers. "We believe we have an even chance for victory and that we have a stronger team than the one that faced Chicago last year."

Coach A. Alonzo Stagg declined to predict a Chicago victory, saying: "The game should result in a hard, clean contest. May the better team win."

While interest will center in the Chicago-Princeton game, "Big Ten" fans also have their eyes on Ann Arbor, where the powerful Michigan eleven will engage Illinois. In other conference games, Purdue will oppose Iowa, conquerer of all, at Iowa City.

JOE LYNCH IS BARRED FROM MADISON SQUARE BOOTS. New York, Oct. 27.—Joe Lynch, king of the bantamweights, has been temporarily barred from plying his trade in the Madison Square Garden ring. The State boxing commission yesterday ruled that Lynch would have to establish himself in good graces elsewhere before he would be permitted to make an appearance in the famous arena.

Lynch's disbarment became known yesterday when Tex Rickard sought permission for a bout between the bantamweight champion and Joe Burman of Chicago to be staged as an attraction at the Garden either on Nov. 13 or Thanksgiving night. Commissioner Muldoon set his foot flatly down on the west sider, saying that Lynch could not appear in the Garden until he had wiped out the odium of his poor performance against Kid Wolfe of Cleveland some time ago.

"Since the Wolfe bout Lynch is no longer a Garden attraction," said Commissioner Muldoon. "He will have to box elsewhere and demonstrate his fitness before we will sanction a Garden bout with him as one of the principals."

There exists at the present time therefore the curious situation of a champion being refused permission to box in one of the leading rings of his own city and the ring in which he first won and then lost his title.

Lynch's manager, is now contemplating a Western trip for his ward. The champion is scheduled for a bout with Joey Saunders in Milwaukee next month, and matches have also been offered with Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Denver and Sioux City.

NINE THOROUGHBREDS GET AWAY IN HANDICAP EVENT. Laurel, Md., Oct. 27.—Nine thoroughbreds are scheduled to face the start-off of the Washington handicap tomorrow. The race will be over the mile and a quarter route. Clear weather and a fast track are predicted.

The fast breakers, named as follows: Nedra, 105, Green tree stable, Pennsylvania; Oceanic, 104, Greenfield farm, Martin; Paragon II, 121, Stanford stable, California.

Polly Ann, 103, Spaulding L. Jenkins, California. Slippery Elm, M. Sunnyland stable, California. Captain Alcock, 110, Quincy stable, C. Ponce.

Lucky Hour, 120, Lexington stable, Schuylkill. Paul Jones, 106, J. S. Coaden, C. Lang. Extremist, 122, Willis S. Kilmer, Johnson.

COUNTRY'S GREATEST SADDLE HORSES TO COMPETE. New York, Oct. 27.—A feature of the coming National Horse Show next month will be a match between the two greatest five-gaited saddle horses in this country, F. N. Matthews' "Sinbad" and H. N. Greis' "Eastern Star" for a purse of $1500.

The Greys' horse, a Kentucky representative, Harry McLean of Chicago who is to be the show's judge for five-gaited horses will act alone in this event.

"Sinbad" was brought on from California last year and won everything in the five-gaited classes, returning to the coast without having been defeated. "Eastern Star" was not shown at the national last year and the two horses have never met. Robert E. Morgan of Lexington, Ky., will ride "Sinbad" while D. E. Sloum, of Shelbyville, Ky., will have the mount on "Eastern Star."

TUNNEY GETS 10 ROUND DECISION OVER WIGGINS. Boston, Oct. 27.—Gene Tunney, former light-heavyweight champion, tonight won a ten round decision over Chuck Wiggins of Indianapolis after ten rounds of slow fighting with the former A. E. F. champion always the aggressor. Tunney landed stiff drives to the head and body but Wiggins did much holding.

A Challenge. The Jall Hill Juniors challenge the Academy Juniors for a game to be played at the Academy campus on Monday afternoon. Captain T. F. Hayes asks that the Academy manager notify him as soon as possible. The Jall Hill team averages 112 pounds to the man.

INTERNATIONAL RACING COMMITTEE REMAINS FIRM ON ITS DECISION

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 27.—(By the A. P.)—The victory of the Gloucester schooner over the Henry Ford of the Canadian, during over the American challenger for the North Atlantic fishing vessel championship, was sustained today by the international committee. Its decision was unanimous.

That considerations of fair play called for award of the cup and the prize to Captain Angus Walters, his boat and his crew, was the only decision that the much mooted series.

Blueshoe Homeward Bound. Almost at the moment that the committee met disposed finally of the protests brought against the Gloucester win of yesterday, the schooner slipped out to sea in the dusk, bound home with flag at half staff, those aboard unknown of the award. Skipper Angus Walters, helped to go back with the body Captain Bert Demore of Lunenburg, N. S., his nephew and a member of his crew who fell overboard from the wharf during the night. Death was accidental drowning, it was certified, but an inquest was called to complete the formalities.

Moreover, also, the protest of the Gloucester skipper was dismissed. The committee decided that the Gloucester skipper was not to have some psychological effect on the player. These signs are printed in large letters on the scoreboard and are put up at conspicuous points in the locker house. They are all to do with "better football."

At present there are posted signs with the following on them: "Learn the Rules." "The Man With the Ball Must Reach Top Speed When Crossing the Line of Scrimmage." "We Are Going to Win Every Game on the Schedule." and "Defensive Football is Played in the Opponent's Territory."

Thus when the men arrive at the field house, at the very time when their minds are in the most receptive attitude, they have them at their own feet, as those above, and they cannot help but be somewhat influenced by them, either consciously or subconsciously, a short while later on the field.

HAZARDING DIFFICULTIES CUTS DOWN NAVY'S CHEERING SQUAD. Annapolis, Md., Oct. 27.—Because of the having difficulties at the Naval academy in which a number of midshipmen were charged with having been involved the navy cheering section at the Penna game on Franklin field, Philadelphia, tomorrow, will be only about half the number that was expected.

When the hazing outbreak developed, Superintendent Wilson virtually denied the seniors permission to attend the game, a privilege extended to them weeks in advance. Some sort of pact was proposed whereby all first class men signifying their intention of attending the game should go to the understanding they would state they had nothing to do with hazing. No applications were forthcoming on that score so the main body of football fans will be second class men, six hundred strong.

The Tigers also wish to say that their team is a game with a few fouls but that is all. They are very anxious to have a reputation before they will descend to play them.

JUDEANS AND JAIL HILLS. AT MOHEGAN PARK SUNDAY. Sunday afternoon at Mohegan Park the fast traveling Jail Hill A. C. will meet the Judean A. C. football team in what is expected to be a fast game. These two teams battled to two scoreless ties last season and with practically the same lineups they have met this season. Both teams are doing strong and this contest should prove the battle of the season. Manager Tommie Williams of Jail Hill men are trying to put Norwich back on the football map and should have the support of the football fans.

The two runs and touchdowns were completed within the remarkably short period of forty-seven seconds.
